

Karl Wannenmacher

Chief Technology Officer
Frequentis AG

---

Personal details	Karl Wannenmacher was born in Lower Austria in 1979. He is married and has two children. His hobbies are reading, podcasts, and sports.
Education	Graduated from “Technikum Wien” University of Applied Sciences in 2002 with a degree in electronics, specialisation computer and software engineering.
Career	Karl Wannenmacher has a strong background in professional software engineering. He started his career as a software engineer and project manager at ace GmbH, where he was responsible for project management, design, implementation, and integration of individual software solutions for customers in Austria, Germany, and Switzerland.
Frequentis	Karl Wannenmacher has worked at Frequentis since 2005. He has held various management positions within the Frequentis research and development (R&amp;D) organisation. He has in-depth knowledge of in designing and implementing complex systems and products for international customers in safety-critical domains and leading large engineering organisations. Since 2010, he has been a member of the Frequentis Technology Management Board. In 2013, he became Head of Public Safety Product Design and Development and in 2020 he was appointed Director of Public Safety Products. As of 1 July 2024, Karl Wannenmacher became CTO with responsibility for the Frequentis Group’s R&amp;D and technology activities.

“ Building on a compelling technology vision and strategy, my main focus is on ensuring that our products and engineering teams deliver innovative solutions for our customers. ”